

Follow your Food - RTÉjr Let's Find Out Colouring Competition

Win a visit to your school from the world's only giant inflatable walk-through digestive system Alimentary Adventures by entering this colouring competition.

The Let's Find Out colouring competition is open to children between 5 and 8 years of age attending national schools in the Republic of Ireland or Northern Ireland.

To enter, download the colouring page pdf, colour it in and post it to: Let's Find Out, RTÉjr, Donnybrook, Dublin 4 for a chance to win! Closing date: 7th December 2018.

APC's Alimentary Adventures, which features in the RTÉjr Let's Find Out series for young children, allows you to explore the insides of the human body. You can take the same journey as food and walk into the giant mouth, be digested and come out the other end! You will learn all about what happens to your food during digestion, get to see organs such as the stomach, liver, gallbladder and pancreas and meet the trillions of bacteria living inside our bodies that help us to stay healthy. And you will have great fun!

Alimentary Adventures was developed by the SFI Research Centre APC Microbiome Ireland, <http://apc.ucc.ie> a world leading research institute focussing on the microbiome, the communities of bacteria, viruses and fungi living in the gut, which play an essential role in our health and wellbeing.

Let's Find Out is a new science show on RTÉjr, co-funded by Science Foundation Ireland, that introduces families to interesting experiments they can do at home. Let's Find Out is set on the space-ship 'Curiosity' - captained by alien puppet Zoom and her trusty assistants, physicist Mark Langtry and biochemist Ciara Murphy. Together they explore questions sent in by children. Alimentary Adventures featured in the episode on energy, filmed on the campus of University College Cork.
